I suffer for my sanity every night
But I won't know
I forgot where I come from

The record spins with the beat of a
Vague fragility of my memories
Moving on into no direction moving on, moving on

Are you there all this time
Turn this pages over again

What if I knew it all
And who killed who

Are you there all this time
Turning them pages over again

Are you there all this time
Turn the pages over again

Are you there all this time
Turn the pages over again
