Beautiful King,
Has anybody seen
Your glory unfold?
You walk up to me
With sparks in Your eyes,
You brighten my world

And You'll always be my only One.
You're the only God I'll ever love
Because,

Every word that You say
Wields the beauty of angels.
Every smile's arrayed
With a joy like wedding bells.
It's my heart you hold.
Of your mystery I sing.
I will stand and behold
My beautiful King

Love of my soul,
With power untold,
Who is like You?
Lamb that was slain,
My God, You reign
In victory and truth.

And I'll follow You all my days.
And I'll give to You every single thing.
I hand everything over,

Every word that You say
Wields the beauty of angels.
Every smile's arrayed
With a joy like wedding bells.
It's my heart You hold.
Of Your mystery I sing.
I will stand and behold
My beautiful King.

And time flies by.

We're not standing alone.
Every word that You say,
Father, let it be known.
God, I fall so fast
Without You by my side.
Let Your beauty be seen

Let Your glory unfold
Let Your glory unfold
Let Your glory unfold
Let Your glory unfold

Every word that You say
Wields the beauty of angels.
'Cause every smile's arrayed
With a joy like wedding bells.
It's my heart You hold.
Of Your mystery I sing.
I will stand and behold
My beautiful King!

'Cause every word that You say
Wields the beauty of angels.
'Cause every smile's arrayed
With a joy like wedding bells.
It's my heart You hold.
Of your mystery I sing.
I will stand and behold
My beautiful King
