It was simple till I started to question
The answers I started testing
To find the truth between the lines
To decipher all these signs
I thought there's gotta be something more to
This gravity that pulls us towards You
I found the proof I thought I needed
Looked in the mirror, yeah, I was breathing

Close your eyes
Free your mind
Realize we're connected

It took a while to believe
Coz I filled my mind with thoughts of me
But Your telescope eyes help me to see
The sparkling hidden truth buried underneath

You're beautiful by design
You're intricate, You're sheer divine
The deepest part of the human heart
Is where true love blows in from the windows

Close your eyes
Free your mind
Realize we're connected

If we don't have love what do we have?
Just the falling sand in this hourglass
We're watching all the time we have fly by so fast
Hold on love, and never look back
Never look back
Never look back
Never look back
Never look back
Never look back

Close your eyes
Free your mind
Realize we're connected

We are connected
We are connected
We're connected
