Dear friend, do you know
Which way the wind will blow?
No man is promised tomorrow.
Still you make up excuses,
You don't know why but you do it.
You think a part of you is missing.

Wake up! You don't know what to do until you wake up!
You don't know what you're missing.

See-through and shallow,
You say you're fine but you're fragile.
Don't believe a word they say, they were wrong.
You may fall down,
Yeah, we're tired when we hit the ground.
We can make it together.

Wake up! You don't know what to do until you wake up!
You don't know what you're missing out on.
Wake up! I don't know what you're feeling,
But there is someone watching over you,
Every minute watching over you.
Don't ever feel like you're all alone,
Cause there is someone watching over you.

Wake up! You don't know what to do, till you wake up!
Till you wake up!
