

Phil Marshall

"A Shake of the Head"

Visit "A Shake of the Head" on MotoLyrics.com

Over several weeks I made the effort, time and time again Oh some days it was worthwhile, and other days it was not
You get fed up of waitin and you gotta just move
But there interest is but too late and in the wrong way

A shake of the head, is all I can do Anything more is pointless and drops down a level
A shake of the head is all I can do
Cause you we're always a million miles away

Over several weeks I made the effort, time and time
again Realized quickly that she'd leave me waiting in the wings
The girls got potential, but never settle for potential Maybe down the line it'd be good
But at that age there are too many beans in that bag
Too many beans in that bag
The other one no matter bout age was the bigger of the two
But I wish the interest stayed away

A shake of the head, is all I can do
Anything more is pointless and drops down a level
A shake of the head is all I can do
Cause you we're always a million miles away

So days from now, it just won't matter like tears that washed away
The views of others should not direct, but add to judgement, my judgement
I have learned this label is, a label that has won
And as many have said before, age matters not at all

Visit Phil Marshall page on MotoLyrics.com, to get more lyrics and videos.