Well I've got sunshine and you've got rain
I've got romance revving through my veins
I've got something playing on my mind
You've got something, something that you want to say

I've got sunbeams streaming down to my heart
And I know this cause I felt the from the start

I've got romance feeling deep inside
When I'm chilling just laying back just sitting back
I'm feeling myself free, and that's what it's all about
And I'm knowing I'm knowing that you're feeling it too

Because, well it's a certain understanding
That will see it through

And you're looking you're looking for something new That's, that's
