The search for happiness and purpose in life
Is more intense than ever.
I've searched, you've searched,
We've run in the night, and still felt untogether.

In word and song I sing along,
A song to be sung with you.
I've found the way, and now today,
You can find it too.

The answer - You don't need to be alone anymore.
The answer is Jesus - believe me He'll open the door.

And with this feeling of love in my heart,
My Lord is with me always.
Although I know that this is a start,
There are no more dark hallways.

In praise and cheer, we're gathered here,
With many or with few.
I saw the light and now tonight
You can see it too.

The answer - You don't need to be alone anymore.
The answer is Jesus - believe me He'll open the door.

The answer - You don't need to be alone anymore.
The answer is Jesus - believe me He'll open the door.
He'll open the door, He'll open the door.
