Every day another page gets printed
A picture taken through a dirty lens
It's been fun but maybe now it's over
The candles melting fast at both ends

But there's a road with no signs
And I'm going soon

It's a wonder just how many people
Thought the earth was easy to defend
In the poison wind we'll breathe much different
Watch the enemy become the friend

But there's a road with no signs
And I'm going soon

It's another disaster
It's the Devil with laughter
All the faces in plaster
Everything's going faster
It's another disaster

Only dreams and water dance below us
Shining up against the walls of stone
Find another picture lost in wreckage
As broken pieces find their way back home

But there's a road with no signs
And I'm going soon

It's another disaster
It's the Devil with laughter
All the faces in plaster
Everything's going faster
It's another disaster

It's another disaster
Everything's going faster
It's the devil with laughter

It's another disaster

It's another disaster
It's another disaster
