All night long it seems I'm waiting
To get up with all the others in my head
The bell rings loud enough with a light that opens up the sky
And a bird looks down on me

I begin to tremble
The wind so cold
Taking off to a new place
In this big green sky

Looking up into a big green sky
As he flys away
Looking up into a big green sky

As we sail across the valley
Looking down on the places we've gone
It's like jumping on a horse
And riding away

What if my friends could see me
Riding atop a big bird
As we sweep across the clouds in
A big green sky

As we begin descending
A smile says something to me
Maybe it's time for a landing
I don't want to land

Then he flys away
And waves goodbye
Fly away

Looking up into a big green sky
As he flys away
Looking up into a big green sky
As he flys away

Looking up into a big green sky
As he flys away

Looking up into a big green sky
