All is lost never to be found
When the tears fill up my eyes and no one is around

I feel like I'm slipping outside myself
As the water rushes all over me and tears fill up in my eyes

And I feel like I could cry
If I had the breath I'd scream
Why is this happening

I feel like I'm slipping outside myself
eyes

Tears fill up in my eyes
Water rushes all over me
Tears fill up in my eyes
Water rushes all over me
Water fills me up inside

Why is this happening

I feel like I'm slipping outside myself
eyes

I feel like I'm slipping outside myself
As the water rushes all over me and tears are passing my mind

Water rushes all over me
Tears are passing my mind
As the water rushes all over me
Tears are passing my mind
