I will give you my heart,
Keep us falling apart,
But you don't need it.
If you just call my name,
It will drive me insane,
But you don't need it.

And things are moving much too fast,
You have me come and go and I just don't know where I
stand,
How could you think about me when you're with another man.
Oh you don't need it.

I stayed up half the night,
Still I just couldn't write,
And i don't need it.
All I wanted was sleep,
But I knew that that could keep,
And I don't need it.

And things are moving much too slow,
You have me come and go and I just don't know where I
stand,
How could you think about me when you're with another
man.
Oh you don't need it.

And things are moving much too slow,
Still you will have me come and go and I just don't know
where I stand,
How could you think about me when you're with another
man.
Oh you don't need it.

I will close down my heart,
If we're falling apart,
Coz' you don't need it.
I won't give you a call,
Won't do anything at all,
Coz' you don't need it.

And things are moving nowhere now,
Still you will have me come and go and I just don't know
where I stand,
How could you think about me when you're with another man.
you have me come and go and I just don't know where I
stand,
How could you think about me when you're with another
man.
Oh you don't need it
