Surely you know by now my heart is wild
I don't wanna be tied down it ain't my style
Don't you think I know better World is kind of other too dis selfish

Well, I can't help it I'm destiny's child
I couldn't began to tell you
If I try admit so much to love before a little while Tried to remember all of the good love I wish you understood love

I ain't no good love I'm destiny's child, destiny's child, destiny's child

I could be on my way now please don't cry
Gotta be somewhere else I don't know why
Keep thinkin' of all I'm losin' I know your lips're soothin'
I gotta be movin' I'm destiny's child

I must wish you well and say goodbye
I wish you moons and stars and sunny skies
You gave me so much to believe in My life has a little more meanin'

Still I'm leavin' I'm destiny's child destiny's child
destiny's child
