Waylon

Win some lose some that's what they say
Time is the healer there's no other way
I can't remember how long has it been
But I saw you last night it started over again..

When I saw you last night I had control of myself
Then I realized what little I had left
The sooner you're gone and out of my sight
Just leave me alone I'll be alright
I'll be alright.

--- Instrumental ---

Nothin' but good times and candles to burn
When the flame burns out it will never return
You haven't changed girl and I never will
When I saw you last night I knew I needed you still.

When I saw you last night I had control of myself
Then I realized what little I had left
The sooner you're gone and out of my sight
Just leave me alone I'll be alright
I'll be alright...
