When I look at you I think many strange things
And it's hard to express all of my feelings
I belong to a girl you hang around with
But I must admit I've got eyes for you

I had to call and tell you just how I felt
You should know by now, that
When you're near my heart melts

I belong to a girl you hang around with
But I must admit I've got eyes for you
Eyes for you, eyes for you
Yes, I must admit I've got eyes for you

In my sleep I call your name
No one to blame, I can't explain
And every time I see you it's the same thing
And I try to escape from looking your way

I belong to a girl you hang around with
But I must admit I've got eyes for you
Must admit I've got eyes for you
I must admit I've got eyes for you
