Just across the way a house is dark
I can hardly see
Just across the way lives a girl
Who's so in love with me

But I'm such a bitter soul
Whose memories seemed to always get their way
So I live here with my memories
She lives there with her love just across the way

Just across the way
I can see her in the window watching me
With her face rest to the pain
And her eyes look more tear stained everyday

But I'm such a bitter soul
Whose memories keep standing in her way
I'm so lonely with my memories
She's lonely with her love just across the way

Just across the way might as well be
In the heavens on a star
We're just close enough together
To see just what far apart we are

But I'm such a bitter soul
Whose memories keep standing in the way
I'm so lonely with my memories
She's lonely with her love just across the way
Just across the way, just across the way
