Women do know how, to carry on,
When they don't need too much, crying time alone.
They'll be right back putting, bread and bacon on,
Women do know how, to carry on.

When she can't keep love afloat, she will survive,
In her soft and sexy ways, she's gonna shock and jive.
She'll hide the tears and find the things, that she needs
to get along,
Women do know how, to carry on.

Women do know how, to carry on.

I never knew a man, who could take a fall,
Land right on their pride, and then they waste it all.
But even when the best, she's ever had is gone,
Women do know how, to carry on.

Women do know how, to carry on,
When they don't need too much, crying time alone.
They'll be right back putting, bread and bacon on,
Women do know how, to carry on.

Women do know how, to carry on,
When they don't need too much, crying time alone.
They've got all they need, to carry on,
Women do know how, to carry on.
