There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me
In each horizon, in each face you see
You'll look for love like love used to be
There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me

Look all around you if you have the time
Look at me once more if you can
You once said you loved me, now you've changed your mind
But you'll change your mind again

There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me
In each horizon, in each face you see
You'll look for love like love used to be
There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me

There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me
In each horizon, in each face you see
You'll look for love like love used to be
There'll come a time girl, you'll look for me
