I feel the loneliness
Drowning in my sorrow
My heart pure emptiness
I'm looking for a better tomorrow
And 'til that day you came away and may the sun shine brighter
That's why I gave you all my loving
For at least a thousand years

Refrain:

You open up my heaven
The love shine down on me
Our love will last at least a thousand years from now
I promise you forever,
until eternity
Straight from the past into a thousand years from now

My heart is filled with joy
And nothing can come between us
Believe me when I say
That without you I'll be lost
So take my hand, let's make a XX
From now and forever
That our hearts belong together
For at least a thousand years

Refrain

You've brighten up my day
Showed me the way
I want you to stay
From now and forever
For a thousand years

Refrain
