Happy birthday Julie

My, it's good to see you, gal

The last time I saw you smile you were still my pal

Yeah, I sure did love you

But somehow you slipped away

Now instead of lovin' you

I'm reminiscin' on your birthday

(refrain)

Do you remember those warm summer nights when the stars hang in the air?

I didn't have a dime to my name, but you didn't care

Now you've gotten married and everything has changed

But happy birthday Julie just the same

(Repeat refrain)

Yes happy birthday Julie just the same

Julie . . .
