Falling in
Six hours from morning
And falling in
Sink me off to sleep

So come along within
I think it's time to let me in
I'm tipping my foot
Very close to the edge

And just a few more of your seconds
And I need for me to repair
To neatly stand and spin
It around in my head

Oh, can I please have some silence?
Oh, can I please have some silence?
Oh, can I please have some silence?
How about some space?

Almost, ready to drift now
And I feel myself slipping inside you
A just a little bit further
Before something drags me back
You're so close, I thought I nearly had you there

I'm so tired, I gotta sleep
I wanna wake up from a dream
I've had enough, I need to sleep
I wanna wake up without you, yeah

So come along within
I think it's time to let me in
I'm tipping my foot
Very close to the edge

And just a few more of your seconds
And I need for me to repair
To neatly stand and spin
It around in my head

Oh, can I please have some silence?

Oh, can I please have some silence?
Oh, can I please have some silence?
How about some space?

Can I please have some silence?
Can I have some space?
Can I have some space?

Can I please have some silence?
Can I please have some silence?
