I don't hate all jam bands, just your boyfriend's.
And, I don't think his stupid song will ever end.
And I don't want to be your friend.
I want to feel you up and then,
I want to take you home and make you understand.
I don't mind you calling me to see me, as long as you don't meet me when you're acting like a drama queen.
And I don't want to be your friend.
I want to feel you up and then,
I want to take you home with me this evening.

"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, I've figured you out.
"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, you're wearing me out.
You're wearing me out.

And I don't hate all jam bands, just your boyfriend's.
And, I don't want to love a girl who likes the Grateful Dead.
And I don't want to be you're friend.
I want to feel you up and then,
I want to take you home and clean you up again.

"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, I've figured you out.
"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, you're wearing me out.
You're wearing me out.

Hippie Drug Girl,
will you ever understand that the moment lasts for no
one.
And the part-time job at the CD store may be something when you're 20.
But, it's empty when you're 30.

Empty when you're 30.

And as you thumb through his mail
and the brochures for the community college,
you'll get scared.
Because, it's one thing to stay young,
but can he fill your smile with something more than
late nights and lost causes?
Late nights and lost causes.

And I don't really want you to be happy.
I just want to know that it gets lonely there without me.
And, I don't want to be your friend.
I want to feel you up and then,
I want to put the last 3 years behind me.

"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, I've figured you out.
"Meet me out"
"Meet me out"
Hippie girl, you're wearing me out.
You're wearing me out.
