There's no use in crying,
all my tears won't drown my pain Streaming from your sorrow,
I can't grieve you again

I watched you let yourself die
And now it's too late to save you this time

You bury me alive,
and everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die
Too consumed by your own emptiness and lies

All I did was love you, now I hate the nightmare you've become.
I can't let you fool me,
I won't need you again

I watched you let yourself die
And now it's too late to save you this time

You bury me alive,
and everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die
Too consumed by your own emptiness and lies

You bury me alive,
and everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die
Too consumed by your own emptiness and lies

Make me feel this love we used to hold All I see is black and cold as I try to pull you down to the ground, the ground

Everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die
You're too consumed by all your emptiness

You bury me alive,
and everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die

Too consumed by your own emptiness and lies

You bury me alive,
and everybody's gotta breath somehow
Don't leave me, die
Too consumed by your own emptiness and lies.
