I tried to be a man
I tried to play the part Thinking growing up was reaching out and thinking on our own I've learned a little bit and figured out the truth that everyone just wants to tell you what to do I've covered all the facts and stood them in a row and after shooting all the ducks down I deciphered out the code
That it is just a trick and we are all pawns while the king and queen push us along

I know that the whole world is spinning around Spinning Around, spinning around
The whole world is spinning around, spinning around

I've taken all I can I've taken a bit more I've been dealt a deck of cards to find, the game is just a bore Oledged my allegiance well to a cause I cannot mend then to realize that this fight was all pretend

Who knew that the whole world is spinning around?
Spinning around, spinning around
The whole world is spinning around, spinning around,
spinning around

Though they have different faces, it's all the same while we are left to play their game
And what do I have left but a thin pile of sand that has broken out the hourglass and jumped into my hand, a simple grain of salt alone in outer space revolving around a start to spawn a race

Who knew that the whole world is spinning around?
Spinning around, spinning around
The whole world is spinning around, spinning around,
spinning around.

Though they have different faces, it's all the same

while we are left to play their game.
