I should take my time, I should think this through You know that not a lot of people have to talk like this When you allow me life regrets to pass for rhetoric Well, it's not so much the words you say it's how you use your lips

I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to move
We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move
We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
no

It's your place or mine, just don't make me choose You know I know you think you're saying what I want to hear
But I'm smart enough to recognize a bad idea Your intentions are transparent, am I making myself clear?

I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move
We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move
We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh

I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move
We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move

There's nothing wrong with asking
What am I supposed to say?
There's nothing wrong with asking
When every answer sounds the same
There's nothing wrong with asking
There's nothing wrong with asking

I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to

move

We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
I'm sure by now you've noticed that there's no need to
move

We're coming to you, yeah, we're coming to you, oh
no
