I cried on the train ride through the bay, under the sea ears pop and I sway

Memories don't feel concrete, they slip fast and fly high and there's defeat

Glad feet still step on falling tears, they dance and jump and fall on all my fears

Where to go from here I just don't know, I miss you so. .

Fairs full of sunlight and someone's still cryin' (2X)

Baby don't you know I love you so, but through all the pain I'll let you go

Your face still here in my mind's eye, but baby don't you know this wells run dry
I see the tops of trees in Golden Gate, the wind tosses round while I await

Fairs full of sunlight and someone's still cryin'. . .

I see the tops of trees in Golden Gate, the wind tosses

Godspeed this place is what we know, I miss you so. . .

Fairs full of sunlight and someone's still cryin'
