eva:

the choice was mine and mine completely i could have any prize that i desired i could ban with the splendour of the brightest fire or else, or else i could choose time remember i was very unfit and the year was forever and a day so what use could 50, 60, 70 be? i saw the lights and i was on my way and how i lived
how they shone,
but how soon the lights where gone

(instrumental)

che:

the choice was yours and no one elses you can cry forever in despair hang your head because she's no longer there to shine, to dazzle, or betray how she lived, how she shone but how soon the lights were gone.

(instrumental)

beauticians:

eyes, hair, face, image all must be preserved still life displayed forever no less than she deserved

(ringing bells)
