You wanna be set apart? Burn all of your art repair the wasteful part

Iâ€™m a vampire in a forest fire

Hey! we all gotta keep warm driving towards the storm

Your father was a pervert

Face down in the dirt

He taught you how to hurt

My father was a miner who lived in the suburbs

Letâ€™s live in the suburbs

If I let where Iâ€™m from burn I can never return!

My brother reads you and me his new poetry

How embarrassing

Your sister pours the gasoline

Iâ€™ll fix your meals

while your burns heal!

Find a house you donâ€™t have to rebuild

Stone by stone, brick by brick, nail by nail my father never meant to leave me this

Let this love last

I drive too fast

Said Iâ€™d return if Iâ€™d ever cared

But thereâ€™s no interstate I find to take me there
