I thought I was just your friend
A sidekick like Gunga Din
Always there for you
Good for a laugh or two

But I guess a little wasn't enough
Once you learned that I had the stuff, now
Tell the world what you just told me

Don't keep it between you and me
Between the devil and the deep blue sea
Hang a sign on the avenue
Tell the riff, the raff and the whose who

Put it on the internet
The radio and the TV set, now
Tell the world what you just told me

Tell the world what you just told me
Could you speak a bit louder yeah,
Better yet shout it out now girl
Tell the world what you just told me

I'm happy, downright lighthearted
As a monkey at a tea party
I'm dizzy as a whirlybird
All cause of three little words

But don't mumble, say it loud and clear
Say it like Paul Revere, now
Tell the world what you just told me

Tell the world what you just told me
Could you speak a bit louder yeah,
Better yet shout it out now girl
Tell the world what you just told me

Could you speak a bit louder yeah,
Better yet shout it out now girl
Tell the world what you just told me
