I've been working on this letter
To whomever it may concern, concern
And there's, there's been a fall in the equations
Of what we hide, of what we hide

Cause in a town like this
Keeping a secret's a weakness
A weakness

I'm just your everyday average dreamer
And I walk these city streets like a plank
And the scene back home is killing everything
It's killing you it's killing me

I've been working on this paycheck
I've been working nine to five, five
And there's, there's been a fall in the equations
Of what we have, of what we have

Cause in a town like this
Keeping a secret's a weakness
A weakness

I'm just your everyday average dreamer
And I walk these city streets like a plank
And the scene back home is killing everything
(Is killing everything)
It's killing you it's killing me

Woah... Woah... Woah...

It's killing you it's killing me
