"We Are Young"

Visit "We Are Young" on MotoLyrics.com

So this is where the future lies
A world that's chained and choked by pride
This can't be how it's meant to be War won't become our legacy

We are young
We are foolish
But we're strong enough to know
That this isn't what we wanted

And this is how the world has turned Somehow we've lost all that we learned
Is fear the fuel that fans your flame?
Well we aren't here to take the blame

I still believe
There's hope in me
Cause skies overhead aren't pitched black just yet
Life carries on
No matter what they've done.
The youth of today
Will find their way
