Until tomorrow it's all I can say.
Take the time to find the world another way.
I wanna be more than yesterday and somehow find a way to this new religion.
If the world could compromise another faith, I wanna be more than yesterday
and somehow find a way to your new religion.
If the world collapses I know I wanna be yours in time
and somehow find a way
to your new religion.
If the world collapses I know I wanna be yours in time
and somehow find a way
to this new religion.
It seems it's more that I could carry on.
It seems it's more than I can take.
It seems the time is finally now.
I think I have the right to speak.
Tape them all together and shove them off.
Keep them all together and keep them warm.
