Complicated heart of mind
With wings of love nowhere to fly Peculiar pattern setting in
The sun is coming back again
One day soon you make a mess
The world comes down and overblows your nest and goes

The summer clouds they made us proud
The clock extends we live without
The ringing slumber forgotten years
The angels when the end is near

One day soon you make a mess
The world comes down and takes you to your nest

And it goes

Maybe you and me
Are hoping for anything
We want this world to know that we're alive
Someday your reaching out
For all the times you lived without
Without the dreams you had down deep inside
Cause one day soon
The world comes down and says goodbye

Exhausted train a thought decides
This complicated heart of mind
The wishes lie I can't pretend
This life I had to begin again
One day soon I'll make a mess
Angels come and take me to my nest
And I'll go

Well I made a stride for all the days I came alive
The world became the one I wanted to try
I reached out and grabbed myself
For all the days I wanted more
I want this world to know that I'm alive Cause one day soon the, the world comes down and says goodbye

Yeah, cause one day soon
The world comes down and says goodbye
