

Wedding Present "Interstate 5"

Visit "Interstate 5" on MotoLyrics.com

I should just get out of here
And start driving south on Interstate 5
But I need to stay near
In case you suddenly remember that I'm alive

I have this nagging fear
That sex was all you needed
I've tried to persevere
I guess I've not succeeded

And is it sexiest to say
That I thought just boys were meant to behave in this way?
You seemed quite sincere
Will you even recognize my face this time next year?

Well, I'll remember how your eyes
Sparkled in the moonlight
You can surely sympathize
I just wanted more than one night

And yes, there was one particular glance
That made me afraid
That you were just seeing me as a chance
Of getting laid
