"Big Mistake"

You can call the coroner
I'm better than halfway dead
I only asked for water
You brought ne poiswon instead
When I slipped into convulsion
Begged for the antidote
You turned around and walked out the door
Pretended not to hear me choke
Whoa I, that was my first mistake Me believing, that you would not cause my heart to break
Your lips are moving
It means you're lying
So what is the difference, if you hear me crying?
Still I wonder, what the hell, have I gone and done?
I feel it's much too late for me to turn it around
Would I rather live with a lie, or live alone
It's a question I can't decide 'til I pick up the phone
Whoa I, you were a big mistake
I'm barely breathing, but I wish I could suffocate.

Drown underwater, so I would not have to taste the pain
Euthanize me, so I'll never feel this way again
Still I wonder-
In our lives we all make mistakes
We all make mistakes
we all make mistakes
If I try a little harder, I could forgive you for murder, if I try a little harder...
Whoa I, you were a big mistake.
I'm barely breathing, but I wish I would suffocate
Drown underwater so I would not have to taste the pain
Euthanize me, so I'll never fall in love again
You were my worst mistake
That was my first mistake
You were a big mistake.
