As she bounces through the blue sky

Everybody's building up a big blue balloon

They made the string from fairy wings and golden dreams

See how high it goes

No one knows about the blue balloon

She's defied the eyes of all man

Sliding over and down the big blue balloon

Can the father's love reach the child above the clouds

So as to dance the day up high

Way up high, above the blue balloon

Blue, blue balloon
My soul calls to you

See her bounce along the banks of Buckinow

She's a sweet surprise and odd why accepting all

Beating along the paths, boulder caps and icicles

She melts into the earth and blows the air back to the central

Blue balloon

Blue, blue balloon

My soul calls to you

Blue balloon
