[Intro]

Yeah, Sometimes you make those steps
And you never come back God, I could never let him out the game, Cmon Six years nigga, Cause I'm a soldier!

[Verse]

I cry out from the heinous slum Back out where the pain is from, Demons sound like nightowls in my cranium
And yeah it begins wit light showers then the rain'll come
But when it does, The pain'll numb, And I just might forget where I came in from And it's likely that I might be slightly sick, But can ya blame ya son?
Dreams get slightly young, Wit the sex, Alcohol, Guns,
White, And meth
Slightly inviting death, Last night nigga, I ain't slept I scream for ya christ and wept Cause without ya, God, I flip out in violence, Every breath I breathe is a lifeless breath I grieve for ya children that riders left Because there ain't enough righteous left Swing gats and they liars when decisive step, Never know what you roll til the dice is set Life's real when all you got is all you got and all you got dawg, You had to fight to get So tell me to get the caskets open and the safety's off all .9's
That when they take, It's all fine
They receivin the tape just to make if y'all mind
You have now awakened the greatest of all time
C'mon

[Outro]

Yeah, We back at it again, Homie G'n up, Chuck soldier, Mama told ya
When you laugh, The whole world laughs wit ya And when you cry nigga, We cry along also So get it for all it's worth
