Two plus two
Me and you
Strolling down the avenue
I never knew that this was meant to be

And all the times we looked into each others eyes
I did it again, I did it again, I did it for you

Holding on
To a song
I guess it's time we passed it on
'Cause one of us keeps changing every day

And all the times we told each other little lies
I did it again, I did it again, I did it for you

How long before we learn to let love fly away?
How long before we learn to live another day?
Whoa-oa

And all the times we broke our hearts to spite ourselves
I did it again, I did it again, I did it for you

How long before we learn to let love fly away?
How long before we learn to live another day?
Oh-oh
Oh-oh

You and me
