"Reason To Worry"

Visit "Reason To Worry" on MotoLyrics.com

Never ending, never to begin again not something you can lose but something you can find another day goes into another day you've got something to do you've got something to find
I've got no reason to worry about anything I've got no good reason to worry at all
I just want to see what i already know
Never ending, never to begin again
not something you can lose
but something you can find another day goes right into another day
you've got something to do
you've got something to find
I've got no reason to worry about anything
I got no good reason to worry at all
I just want to see what i already know
I've got no reason to worry about anything
I got no good reason to worry at all
I just want to see what i already know
I just want to see what i already know
I just want to see what i already know
I just want to see what i already know
