Chaotic calamity collides with calm composure
So easily, you can die from overexposure Unevenly, the will is propelled to desperate acts of soul Regeneration!

Balance the sea with the earth
Simplicity is sublime to the undefined mind
Light feels his rebirth!

I beseech you discreetly I repeat
Replete with back-beat and the need to plant seeds
Earth sun and rain
Wind storm and pain
Can drain your brain if you don't retain a frame of reference

There was a young boy living on an island
His evil aunts never had him smiling
His only friend was a tiny spider
And in a giant peach is where he chose to hide
James, James, James!

In defense of the defenseless, my best guess to is stress
Change, change, change

Evolution revolution restitution
Is the solution to the pollution of a collective heart

I beseech you discreetly I repeat
Replete with back-beat and the need to plant seeds
Earth sun and rain
Wind storm and pain
Can drain your brain if you don't retain a frame of reference
