All the tales you've been tellin' from the start
Said 'em loud but I never believed 'em
I wore an old band of black around my heart
I wore it proud but it never relieved me

Suddenly I got everything I want
Yeah once again we can see the big picture
It's gonna take all the good in all of us
To tear away all the damage you did here

And I recall
Yeah I remember the smell of eucalyptus
Oh it's like a dream
But I remember it well

We'll send you off in a rotten leaky boat
With all the lies we could never deliver
We'll float away and we'll never forget
We'll never trust and we'll never forgive ya

And I recall
Yeah I remember the smell of eucalyptus
Oh it's like a dream
But I remember it well

The saddest times and the worst times suited you well
x4
The dispossessed and the poor times suited you well
x2
Yeah all the pain and the hard times suited you well
Yeah all the fares and the hate crimes suited you well
The overboard and the downtrodden suited you well
The dispossessed and the poor times suited you well
The devastated the ? suited you well
The saddest times and the worst time suited you well
The saddest
