Hear me pray: my will be broken
Please betray me, hopes unspoken
Let me crawl onto your cross and smile
Let me live anesthetized

But my dreams, they still consume me
Every scene, I seem to screen again
Not a night I dont feel overwhelmed
What I see is what they get, instead:

One step ahead for me
Is always two behind
What did I take
To think Im doing fine?
One step a day
Just one step away
Like doing time

Making love to isolation
Made my peace with indignation
Not a lot that I can hope to be
I can hear the years count down in me

One step ahead for me
Is always two behind
What did I take
To think Im doing fine?
One step a day
Just one step away
Like doing time

One step ahead for me
Is always two behind
What did I take
To think Im doing fine?
One step a day
Just one step away
Like doing time
