Another time, another space mak my words i cna't fake another day of sadness my hear's been taken whole and this dream is getting old yet i'm searching every part of me, baby the tabled turned, that's for sure guilt and honor have crossed into what's left for holdin' on you know things are getting hard when we see them as they are can't those qualities remain the same? woman, feeling good about the choice i made in so deep there ain't no judgement day if there was i think i'd be okay woman, please release me from your hold tonight burning bridges in the morning light i'm just heavy on this city life oh i tried to tell you but it's too late to find out hanging on the back of my will waiting for the moment to be sitll save your problems baby save your problems for the world and they might go away, go away i've been contemplatin' keepin' it complicated for when you wanna turn the day in and i just wanna turn the day around i know it hurts a lot but i gave what i got now i'll be gettin' on ym way repeat chorus tried so hard to love you but i keep on runnin' burning bridges in the morning light, morning light
