"Canto II"

I stood and watched,
But I could not believe,
I was new to this beauty...
Why had I been before?
The metallic glowing blue,
Provoked memories long dormant
And the deep red clouds flowed
With the elegance of a queen.
I was so far, yet the ambiance
Was so strong and I could feel my soul trying.....
Trying to break free from
This restricting mortal vest.
Soon my spirit flies through the night
Sky, unrestricted...free,
Like sand flowing through my fingers.
Here I sense real peace,
Sinking into the clouds,
I can forget the old world and despair no more.
Sunrise brought a new day and
I was drenched in my sun,
It's warmth rejuvenated my once withered soul.
Here I sense real peace,
Is this my paradise.
