I wait by my window, see your face
You stand at my doorway, a pillar of grace

Oh, I wonder how you ever drew me to you
It must have been that sparkle in your eye
Your lips your smile your heart your soul
Just flew right through me I walked to you through stardust in the sky

Chorus:

Now I'm folding in your arms once again
Yeah, I'm folding in your arms once again, once again

The bridge of a lifetime
A bad escape
My heart often wondered... would it ever be okay

But I never had to question for a moment
If there was something you forgot to say
I turned around and felt you in an instant and knew you'd never throw our love away

Chorus
