Can you feel the way I look at you
Do you know the things I do
Never knowing how
Always feeling low
Realizing now
My focused eyes stare you down
Will you live to see the truth
Can you fight the fear inside of you
Everyone around
Always track you down
You thought I was so true
Realize I'm not you
You feel as though it's real
The things that can't feel
The thought that I was true
But all the time you knew, I'm not you
Can you fight the war that lives inside of me
Will you win the battle that will set me free
Never knowing how
Realizing now
Took some time to see

The one you want to be is not me
