The water's deep and rising fast
A sea of emotions flows through my mind
The waves come rolling from your eyes
There is no way out, no compromise
I feel so sick, confusion sets in It's like it was way back when
At first glance the chills roll down
How come I'm like a clown
When love sets in...
When love sets in...
Help me break the silence, please
Should I speak or wait my turn this one hard lesson is mine to learn
The lesson of love, but who's to know
Your soft whisper and spoken word
A trust that never leaves me bored
That one special friend in your heart
One to know that you really care
When love sets in...
When love sets in...
I never knew what hit me so damned hard

But it made me stop and realize

For so long I stumbled I took you for granted

I'm so glad you opened my eyes

When love sets in...

When love sets in
