Once there could have been everything together in the world Once upon a time everything worked into a scheme but today we break unwritten rules just by being alive Today we break natures rules when we will not die Pangaea is the root of all when cycles explained it all but empowered fools with halogen eyes will bring about our fall there may be no chain if we keep breaking the links it falls apart much easier whenever the moron thinks and the end will come from the endless quest ending once we find out whats best

by then we can not stop it Once the stone but now the puzzle where none of the peices work the broken earth may never be whole again.
