with the sunshine on my face, Happy days a glance all the hearts in chance with love and romance either i or the sun could brighten all this day, i'm happy, very happy, that i could be feel this way With all emotions that come to heart, the sun has choosen the right spot in life we must learn that happy days aren't always the tune somehow i wish this pain would end, stop this rage inside my heart and all i feel i fear to show and so i bury deep, deep down within is where it is and that is where i'd keep, my love for you and all the others, with all a gloom a distant thunder the sun will shine no more some were love and others passion, and some were not at all but if i could and that i would, i'd have you as a Hall With all the world and all my heart, the pathway has led me to your heart
