"November"

The past we seek
Some certainty
The seasons we remember
The light of May
..and the darkest days
The month we call...
November

To leave behind
The wasted time
And every bad decision
..and harder still
What force of will
To feel we are forgiven

But something stays
So who am I to say
There's nothing more between us

..and I don't know the reasons

Nothing's clear...
I've come to no conclusions
Said and done
Is it all said and done?

So here we are
Not very far
From where we said
Forever
..and all we have
This restless past
The month we call...
November
