To find in yourself real youth,
Look at yourself and accept the truth,
In time you have been caught,
But time is nothing but thought.

Never follow what one says,
Just find out your "own ways",
Many times you will be mistaken, don't worry,
There is no reason to be in any hurry.

Wherever one is born happens accidentally,
Whatever color your skin shows is meant to be,
Whatever culture, whatever language you speak,
Be aware you are human that's all what there is to seek.

Everyone is beautiful, that's his uniqueness,
There is no one who is more or less,
We are all just drops in the ocean of eternity,
Just let go to become one with the ocean to be free.
